Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-19, drawn to a first product, antisense compounds targeted to a nucleic acid molecule encoding human Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2, and a first method, of inhibiting the expression of Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2 in human cells or tissues, comprising contacting said cells or tissues with said antisense compound.

Applicants are reminded that different nucleotide sequences are structurally distinct chemical compounds. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute distinct inventions. Claim 3 specifically claims antisense SEQ ID NOS: 10-23 and 25-46, and claim 4 specifically claims antisense SEQ ID NOs: 10-13, 16-18, 20, 22, 23, 25, 27, 28, 31, 35, 38-43, and 45, which are targeted to and modulate the expression of human Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2. Although the antisense sequences claimed each target and modulate expression of human Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2, the instant antisense sequences are considered to be unrelated, since each antisense sequence claimed is structurally and functionally distinct for the following reasons: each antisense sequence has a unique nucleotide sequence, each antisense sequence targets a different and specific region of a human Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2 nucleic acid, and each antisense, upon binding to a human Jun N-terminal kinase kinase-2 nucleic acid, functionally modulates (increases or decreases) the expression of the gene and to varying degree (per Applicants' Table 1 in the specification). As such the Markush groups of antisense sequences in claims 3 and 4 are not considered to share a common special technical feature. Furthermore, a search of more than one (1) of the antisense sequences claimed in claim 3 presents an undue burden on the Patent and Trademark Office due to the complex nature of the search and corresponding examination of more than one (1) of the claimed antisense sequences. In view of the foregoing, one (1) antisense sequence is considered to be a reasonable number of sequences for examination. Accordingly, applicants are required to elect one (1) antisense sequence from the combined sequences recited in claims 3 and 4. Note that this is not a species election.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
